

2009 Geography Awareness Week and GIS Day

Urban, Regional and Global Studies Track

Find out!

Thursday - November 19, 2009

Program Kickoff

Prof Wanner: Global strategies and international affairs

Prof O'Kelly: 100 years of geography at OSU

Thompson Library Rm 165
10:00-10:15AM

Why Geography Matters

Prof. Cox: Putting Geographers in their place

Prof. McSweeney: Food and global population growth

Prof Mark: Global climate change and human society

Prof. Sui: Stolen Geography - Protecting your identity in an age of surveillance

Thompson Library Rm 165
10:15-10:55AM

Career Opportunities for Geographers and GIS Specialists

Panelists from successful local businesses and organizations talk about career paths.

Thompson Library Rm 165
11:00AM-Noon

Understanding the World from a Geographic Perspective

Interdisciplinary Applications of GIS, presented by various campus departments, local organizations and local business, including software demos and geo-gaming.

Thompson Library - West
Buckeye Reading Room
Noon-2:00PM

Geocaching / Scavenger Hunt

Join the 21st Century version of scavenger hunt using GPS technology to find treasures around campus.

Thompson Library - West
Buckeye Reading Room
1:30-3:30PM

Reports from the Field

Geography students present recent field research from home and abroad.

Derby Hall Rm 1080
3:30-5:00PM

More Information at geography.osu.edu

2009 Geography Awareness Week and GIS Day

GIS and Spatial Analysis Track

Find out!

Thursday - November 19, 2009

Program Kickoff

Prof Wanner: Global strategies and international affairs

Prof O'Kelly: 100 years of geography at OSU

Thompson Library Rm 165
10:00-10:15AM

Why Geography Matters

Prof. Cox: Putting Geographers in their place

Prof. McSweeney: Food and global population growth

Prof Mark: Global climate change and human society

Prof. Sui: Stolen Geography - Protecting your identity in an age of surveillance

Thompson Library Rm 165
10:15-10:55AM

Career Opportunities for Geographers and GIS Specialists

Panelists from successful local businesses and organizations talk about career paths.

Thompson Library Rm 165
11:00AM-Noon

Understanding the World from a Geographic Perspective

Interdisciplinary Applications of GIS, presented by various campus departments, local organizations and local business, including software demos and geo-gaming.

Thompson Library - West Buckeye Reading Room
Noon-2:00PM

Geocaching / Scavenger Hunt

Join the 21st Century version of scavenger hunt using GPS technology to find treasures around campus.

Thompson Library - West Buckeye Reading Room
1:30-3:30PM

Reports from the Field

Geography students present recent field research from home and abroad.

Derby Hall Rm 1080
3:30-5:00PM

More Information at geography.osu.edu

2009 Geography Awareness Week and GIS Day

Atmospheric and Climatic Studies Track

Find out!

Thursday - November 19, 2009

Program Kickoff

Prof Wanner: Global strategies and international affairs

Prof O'Kelly: 100 years of geography at OSU

Thompson Library Rm 165
10:00-10:15AM

Why Geography Matters

Prof. Cox: Putting Geographers in their place

Prof. McSweeney: Food and global population growth

Prof Mark: Global climate change and human society

Prof. Sui: Stolen Geography - Protecting your identity in an age of surveillance

Thompson Library Rm 165
10:15-10:55AM

Career Opportunities for Geographers and GIS Specialists

Panelists from successful local businesses and organizations talk about career paths.

Thompson Library Rm 165
11:00AM-Noon

Understanding the World from a Geographic Perspective

Interdisciplinary Applications of GIS, presented by various campus departments, local organizations and local business, including software demos and geo-gaming.

Thompson Library - West
Buckeye Reading Room
Noon-2:00PM

Geocaching / Scavenger Hunt

Join the 21st Century version of scavenger hunt using GPS technology to find treasures around campus.

Thompson Library - West
Buckeye Reading Room
1:30-3:30PM

Reports from the Field

Geography students present recent field research from home and abroad.

Derby Hall Rm 1080
3:30-5:00PM

More Information at geography.osu.edu

2009 Geography Awareness Week and GIS Day

Environment and Society Track

Find out!

Thursday - November 19, 2009

Program Kickoff

Prof Wanner: Global strategies and international affairs

Prof O'Kelly: 100 years of geography at OSU

Thompson Library Rm 165
10:00-10:15AM

Why Geography Matters

Prof. Cox: Putting Geographers in their place

Prof. McSweeney: Food and global population growth

Prof Mark: Global climate change and human society

Prof. Sui: Stolen Geography - Protecting your identity in an age of surveillance

Thompson Library Rm 165
10:15-10:55AM

Career Opportunities for Geographers and GIS Specialists

Panelists from successful local businesses and organizations talk about career paths.

Thompson Library Rm 165
11:00AM-Noon

Understanding the World from a Geographic Perspective

Interdisciplinary Applications of GIS, presented by various campus departments, local organizations and local business, including software demos and geo-gaming.

Thompson Library - West
Buckeye Reading Room
Noon-2:00PM

Geocaching / Scavenger Hunt

Join the 21st Century version of scavenger hunt using GPS technology to find treasures around campus.

Thompson Library - West
Buckeye Reading Room
1:30-3:30PM

Reports from the Field

Geography students present recent field research from home and abroad.

Derby Hall Rm 1080
3:30-5:00PM

More Information at geography.osu.edu