

16th Annual Severe Weather Symposium

Friday, March 2, 2012

8:00 AM to 5:00 PM

The Fawcett Center

Love storms? Interested in weather? Come listen to meteorologists from across the country speak on a variety of fascinating aspects of severe weather! Tornadoes, hurricanes, climate change and even social media's impact on weather awareness are just some of the topics that will be covered by our speakers. Come for one or come for all, the 16th Annual Severe Weather Symposium is something you are not going to want to miss.

Parking is free at the Fawcett Center or take the CABS Buckeye Village bus from Central Campus to the Woody Hayes Athletic Center
COTA Routes #7 and #18 also service the Fawcett Center

Please RSVP by Monday, February 27

Visit <http://geography.osu.edu/metclub> to RSVP and for more information